What Does God Look Like?

A preacher once asked the preschoolers in Sunday school to draw pictures of God. He intended to use them as an illustration for his Sunday sermon. Toward the end of class, the children were excited to show him their work. They came up with rainbows and men with big hands. Finally, the preacher's daughter showed him her picture—a man with a suit and tie on. "I don't know what God looks like," she said, "so I just drew my daddy instead."

A survey was done of boys before Father's Day. The surveyors asked what the most important things about a father were. The answers were things like; he plays catch with me. He shows me his work. He takes me on errands with him. Every single answer in the top ten had to do with a father spending time with his son. It is all about a coming together. It didn't matter whether they went to the park or the car parts store, it mattered they went together.

Psalms 103:13 - As a father shows compassion to his children, so the Lord shows compassion to those who fear him.
